

Senior Property Figure Joins Lichfields

Planning and development consultancy Lichfields - has demonstrated its ambition with the appointment of a senior UK property figure to its board.

Kay Chaldecott, a board member of New River Reit PLC and St Modwen Properties PLC, has joined Lichfields as a Non-Executive Director.

Kay, former Managing Director of Capital Shopping Centres PLC (now known as Intu Properties PLC), is recognised amongst the top 25 most prestigious women in the industry by The Association of Women in Property (2012).

Lichfields' Chief Executive James Fennell said: "We are delighted to have someone of Kay's experience joining us as a Non-Executive director.

"We are a dynamic business with big plans for the future and Kay will form an integral part of our leadership team in developing that future."

Lichfields' Chairman Justin Gartland, said: "Kay's property knowledge, expertise and non-executive experience will help drive our business strategy forward and grow the business further in the future.

"Kay will bring insight and knowledge to help us realise the potential of new markets and expand our services."

Kay, a chartered surveyor with over 30 years of experience of the property industry, said: "These are exciting times for Lichfields and I'm delighted to accept the invitation to join the board.

"I am looking forward to bringing all my industry knowledge to add insight and value to the proposition we currently offer and contribute to our progress over the coming years."

Kay will join fellow non executive directors Robert Warner and Geoffrey Smith alongside senior Lichfields staff on the board.

ENDS